"COMEDIES OF THE COMMONPLACE."

BY STEPHEN LEACOCK.

We have much pleasure in announcing that we have arranged for the publication in "The Illustrated Mail" of a series of articles, entitled "Comedies of the Commonplace," by Stephen Leacock, the famous author of "Sunshine Sketches of a Little Town," "Moosemasks from the Larger Lunacy," "Keweenaw and Literary Studies," etc. Professor Leacock is probably the best known of living humorous writers, and his "Mail" readers ought to appreciate greatly the chance of reading articles by him.

The first of the series, "My Moving Picture Play," will be published in next week's "Mail." This is a parody on a type of film often produced. Others of the series are "Why I Murdered My Landlord," "These New Dances," "The Gate of the Great Dry Land," "My Object to Golf," "Is the Drama What It Was?"

If you are not already a regular reader of "THE ILLUSTRATED MAIL," ORDER YOUR COPY THIS WEEK, AND EVERY WEEK.
